

Geri-Fit® is interested in teaming with in-home healthcare companies that want to provide a very needed service: in-home senior fitness exercise training.

Including the Geri-Fit® strength training exercise program as part of the services your in-home healthcare agency offers will greatly enhance the array of services you offer.

Our company has been in business since 1994 and offers its Geri-Fit® exercise program at approximately 33 locations throughout the U.S. We are looking to partner with another similar-type senior oriented business that could utilize the expertise we have in the fitness industry. We are a leader in older adults exercise programming and many of our original locations are still offering the Geri-Fit® exercise program today... 20 years later!

We are looking for in-home healthcare agencies that would like to purchase the Geri-Fit® exercise program license so that it can be taught in-home to seniors that want and need a strength training program. Your employees or contractors could act as a personal fitness trainer or work alongside with the client while simultaneously watching the Geri-Fit® DVD. The in-home provider could correct the client's form or assist, when needed.

Senior personal fitness training done in-home is an emerging market and companies that offer this in-home exercise training will gain a competitive edge. Our Geri-Fit® program is easy-to-learn and training can be accomplished online through our website, gerifit.com/training.

As a licensee, you will also receive an extensive Geri-Fit® Training Manual and two training dvd's. For companies interested in sending a personal fitness trainer to the client's home, we suggest the trainer already be certified by a nationally-recognized certifying organization such as ACE, NSCA, AFFA, ACSM, or W.I.T.S. before teaching Geri-Fit®. Training can be also be accomplished by attending Geri-Fit® certification at our corporate headquarters in southern California. Instructors can be non-medical professionals meaning they do not have to be physical therapists or nurses in order to teach the Geri-Fit® exercise program.
